Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species I, figures 1, 2, and 5-8, is related to an RF module with E plane coupling windows;

Species II, figures 9-14, is related to an RF module with H plane coupling windows;

Species III, figures 15 and 16, is related to an RF module with the combination of E plane and H plane coupling windows;

Species IV, figure 17, is related to an RF module with a pair of ground electrodes connected through a conductor; and Species V, figures 18 and 19, is related to an RF module with at least one input line and at least one resonator between the input line and the half-wavelength TE mode resonator.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Claims 1-4 correspond to Species I;

Claims 8-11 correspond to Species II;

Claims 15 and 19 correspond to Species III;

Claims 5, 12, 16, and 20 correspond to Species IV; and Claims 6, 7, 13, 14, 17, 18, 21 and 22 correspond to Species V.

The following claim(s) are generic: None.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The special technical feature of the Species I is the E plane coupling window. The special technical feature of the Species II is the H plane coupling window. The special technical feature of the Species III is the combination of E plane and H plane coupling windows. The special technical feature of Species IV is a pair of ground electrodes connected through a conductor (i.e., via hole). The special technical feature of Species V is an input line with at least one resonator between the input line and the half-wavelength TE mode resonator.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
